

NEST

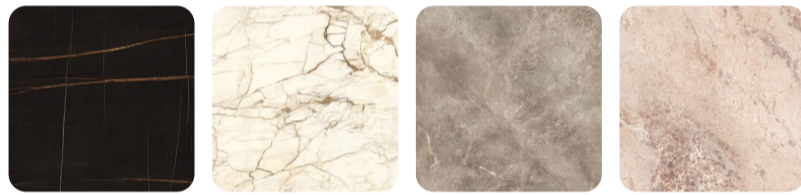

The path of research and synthesis between craftsmanship and contemporary design, realizing a new development of an absolutely original constructive idea. The base of this table is in fact made up of wooden slats crossed around an invisible central beam, as in the Wave collection, but their lines are arranged symmetrically so as to create a single enveloping shape, like a nest or a glass of flower. The beauty of this creation, light and at the same time stable thanks to the increased section of the slats, is showcased through the 180 cm long glass top.
